10,000 Ways

Hey Cheetah-B, how are things going with Leo?
Hi Horsie. It's pretty much the same...

He keeps trying different methods to apologize...I'm starting to get annoyed.
Like?

Singing

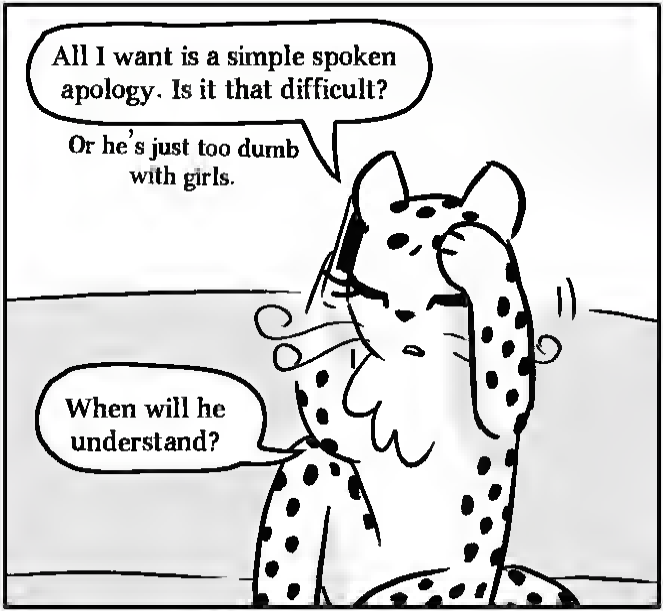
Flowers

Breakfast

Origami gifts

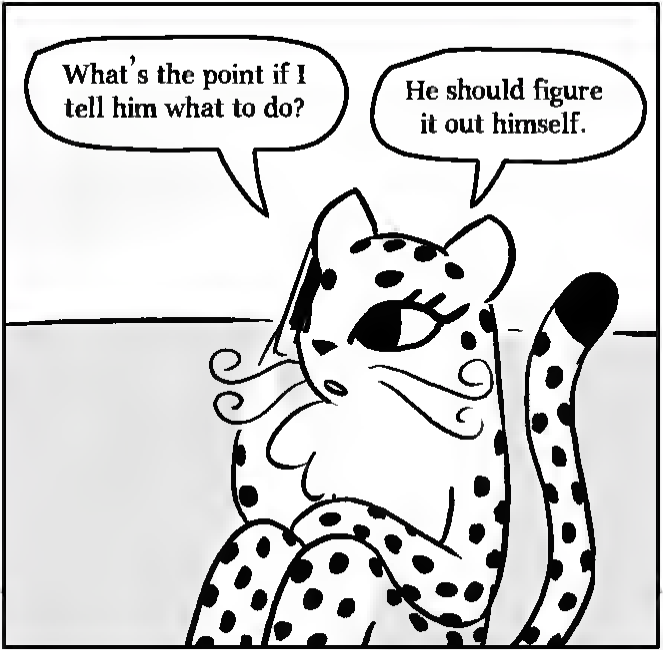
Coffee

burnt

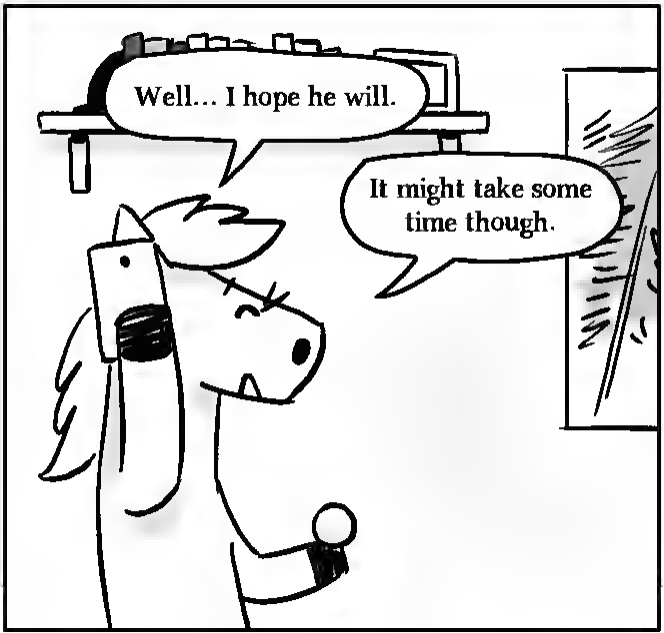


All I want is a simple spoken apology. Is it that difficult?
Or he's just too dumb with girls.
When will he understand?

If he doesn't understand, why not just tell him what you want?



What's the point if I tell him what to do?
He should figure it out himself.



Well... I hope he will.
It might take some time though.

It won't work this way... guys can't read minds.
I've learned a hard lesson from it.

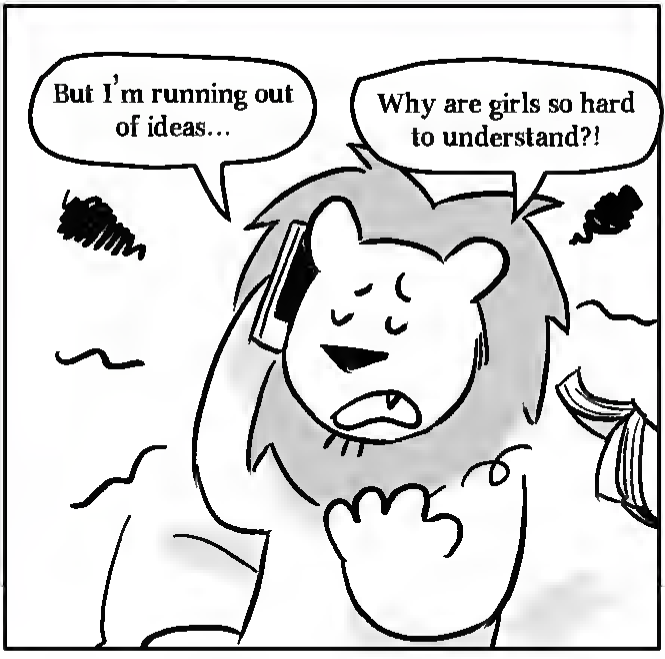
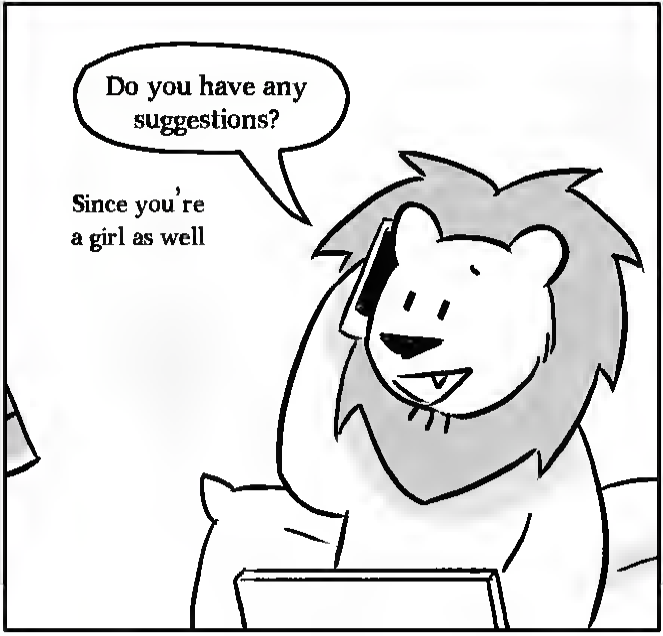
Hey Horsie!
Hey Leo, how are you doing?

I'm alright...
Still figuring out another way to make Cheetah-B happy...
GIFTS for CATS

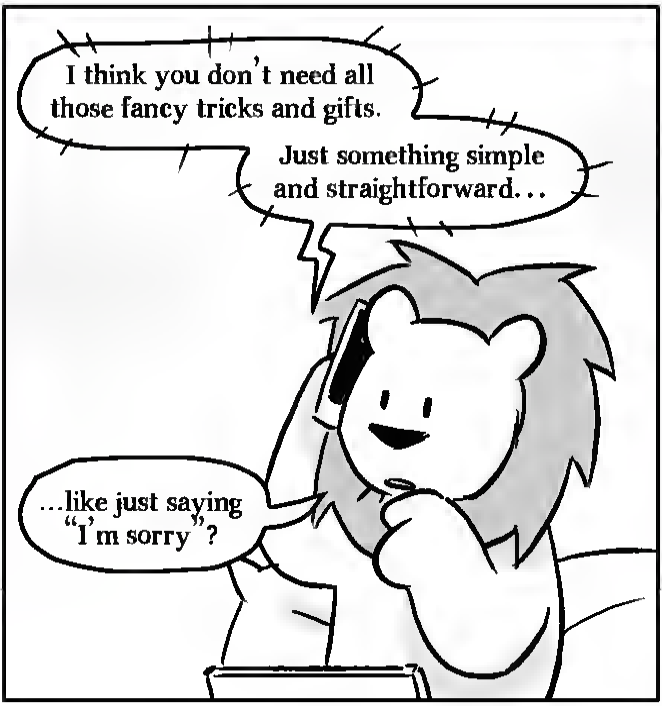


But I'm running out of ideas...
Why are girls so hard to understand?!

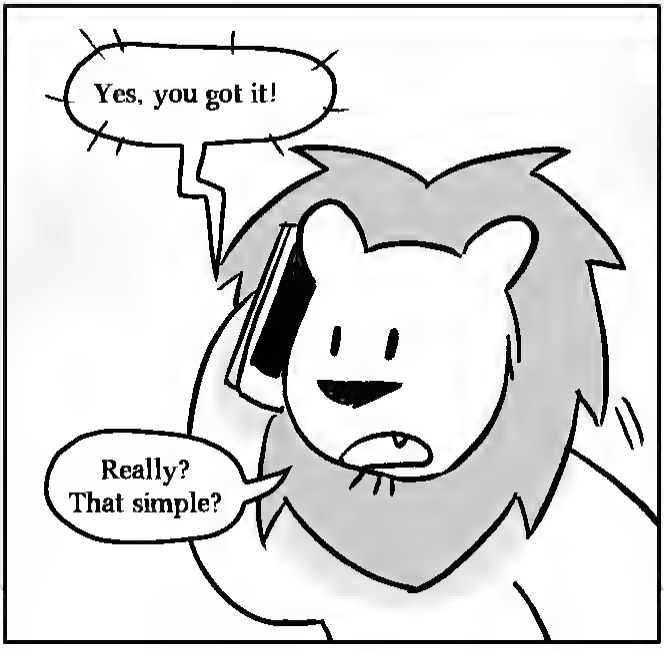
Yeah, sometimes they are.



Do you have any suggestions?
Since you're a girl as well



I think you don't need all those fancy tricks and gifts.
Just something simple and straightforward...
...like just saying "I'm sorry"?



Yes, you got it!
Really?
That simple?

I don't really believe it,
but I'm running out of ideas...
Give it a try Leo!

knock

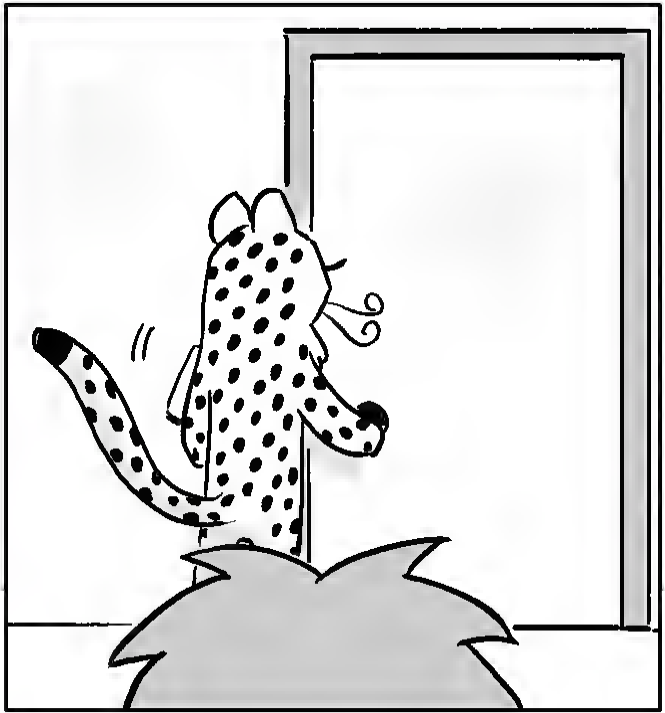
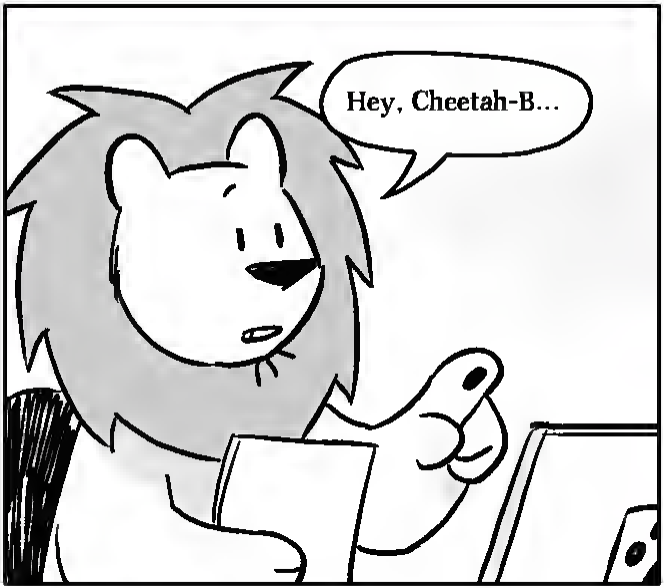
These are the forms Po filled in.
We'll discuss his post in the next meeting.
Thanks.





Hey, Cheetah-B...

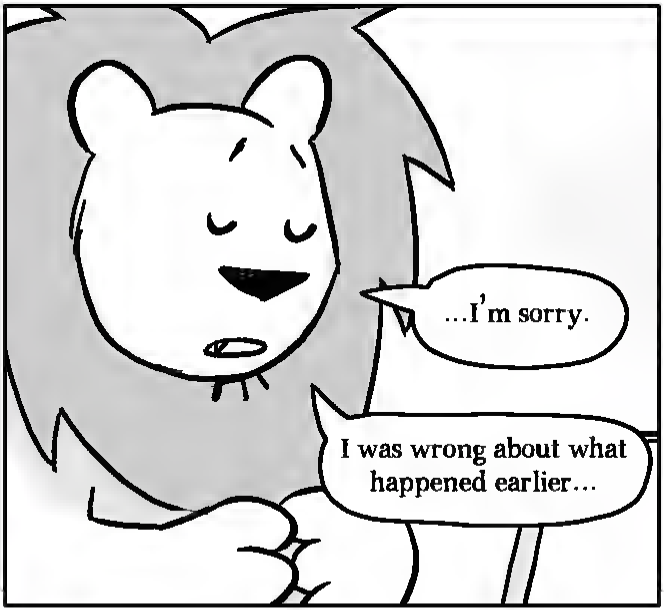
Um, listen...
I just wanted to say that...



...I'm sorry.
I was wrong about what happened earlier...

You know, I say things straightforwardly all the time without really thinking about it first...
I didn't mean to hurt your feelings.

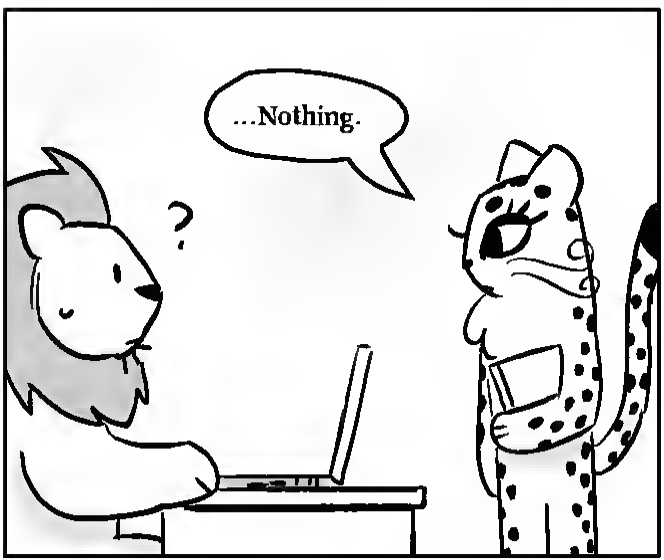
Um, did I say something wrong?
Tell me what should I do to be forgiven?



...Nothing.

Apology accepted.

What?
That's it?!

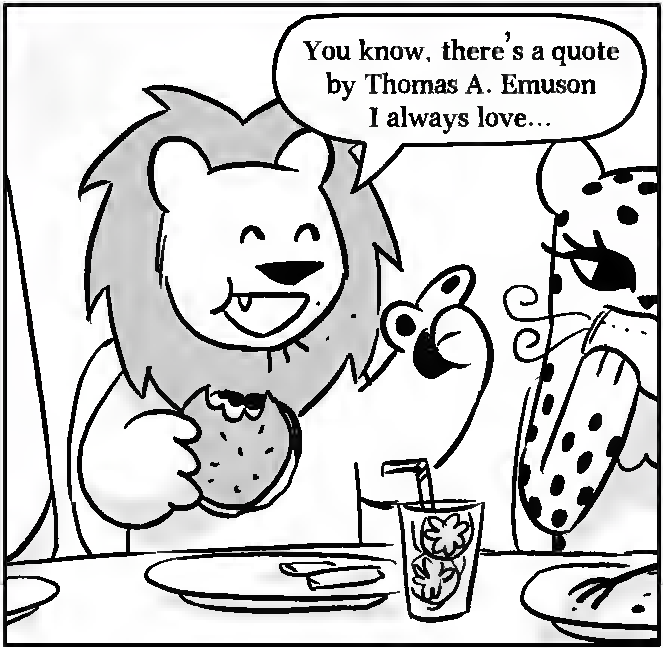
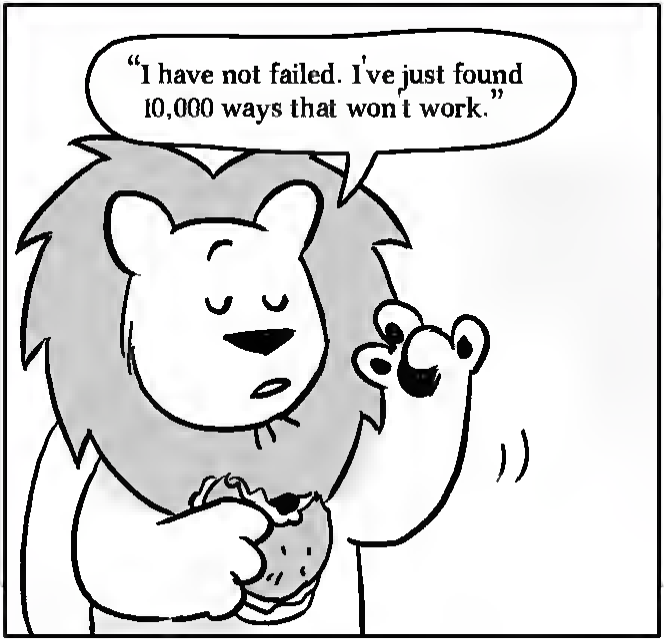
What happened to Leo? He looks like a different lion!
Yeah, he was pretty miserable last few weeks...

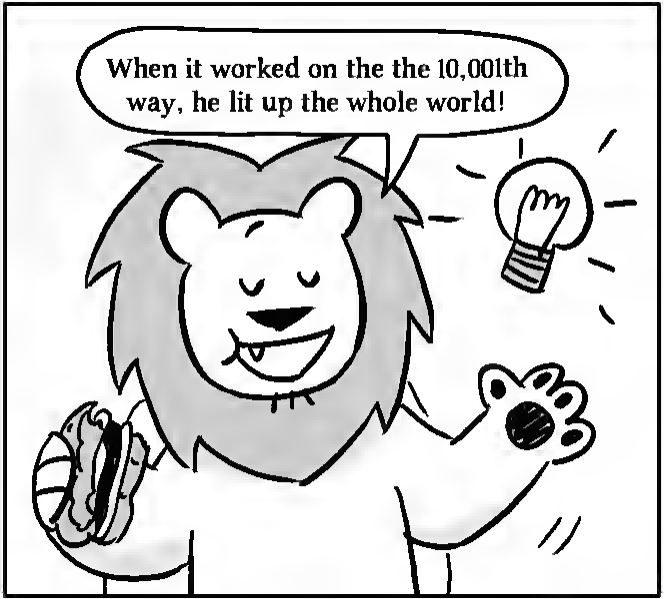
blah blah blah blah



You know, there's a quote by Thomas A. Emuson I always love...



"I have not failed. I've just found 10,000 ways that won't work."



When it worked on the the 10,001th way, he lit up the whole world!

Animals Around The World #69

Melphox

Has Sri Lanka been done yet? Our national animals are the Sri Lankan junglefowl and the Sri Lankan Birdwing butterfly. We have a lion on our flag and coat of arms, too!

Readers from Sri Lanka!

The national bird of Sri Lanka is the Sri Lankan junglefowl. They have a high sexual dimorphism, males are much larger and more colorful than females. Their eggs varies in color from cream to purple!
